

OLD GETTYSBURG COLLEGE COL. LEWIS STEGMAN DEAD MANY RECENT WEDDINGS DEATH IN AUTO CRASH TO BUCHANAN VALLEY PERSONAL POINTS OF VIEW

PREPARES A BRILLIANT INAUGURATION FOR DR. HANSON.

Many Colleges Will be Represented at Function With Distinguished Scholars.

The inauguration of Dr. H. W. A. Hanson as president of Gettysburg College, on Friday, Oct. 19, will surpass anything the College has ever known. It will be a day never to be forgotten by those who attend.

The ceremonies will be held on the banks of the Tiber, in a large Swarthmore Chautauqua tent erected for purpose. The academic procession will form at Glatfelter Hall, and proceed to the tent at 9:15 A. M.

Mr. John F. Dapp, president of the Board of Trustees, will install the new president. The other speakers will be Pres. Smith of Roanoke College, for the visiting instructors and schoolmen. Dr. Valentine for the Faculty of Gettysburg College, and Henry W. Bickle, Esq. of Philadelphia, for the alumni.

The presidents of the respective classes have been chosen by the undergraduate students to represent them in the ceremonies. They will act as marshalls.

Nothing definite has been arranged for the afternoon, but it is expected that most of the visitors will tour the battlefield or renew their acquaintances with old college chums whom they chance to meet.

All social events at fraternity houses or elsewhere for the evening have been called off or postponed; so as to have nothing interfere with the reception in the Y. M. C. A. building. To this reception, given by the new president and "The First Lady of the College," everybody is cordially and urgently invited.

The campus will take on a carnival appearance for the event. Searchlights will light up the buildings, while hundreds of Japanese lanterns and miles of Orange and Blue burning will be the setting for the Mardi Gras.

The College calendar for 1924 will feature the inauguration, and a stand will be erected on the campus at which these calendars may be ordered. A camera-man will be on duty to take moving pictures of the event.

Every college in Pennsylvania, and many from other states, will have representatives at the inauguration ceremonies on October nineteenth. With but two exceptions, all of the colleges to be represented have named their delegates. More institutions will probably name their delegates within the next week.

The list of colleges to be represented follows:

- Drexel Institute, represented by President H. K. Matheson.

WAS CHAIRMAN OF THE NEW YORK MONUMENT COMMISSION

A Frequent Visitor to Gettysburg and Erected a Number of Memorials Here.

Col. Lewis R. Stegman, chairman of the New York Monuments Commission and a frequent visitor to Gettysburg, a veteran journalist and ex-sheriff of Kings County, N. Y., died on Sunday at his Brooklyn home after a protracted illness, in his 84th year. Several months ago the famous Civil War veteran was stricken. He rallied but the end came Sunday morning with his wife and daughter at his bedside.

Col. "Lew" Stegman, Civil War fighter, politician, newspaper man, was the best known of the Brooklyn survivors of the war of '61 and was born in Manhattan.

At the age of twenty-three he accompanied the 102nd Regiment to Gettysburg. His command did heroic fighting at Culp's Hill as a part of Green's brigade of Slocum's division. The best of the Confederate troops were hurled against this, the right of the Union line, but in vain. Stegman's men stood fast and helped to win the day.

Within the breastworks which outlined the summit of Culp's Hill there was at this time a peculiar state of affairs. The entire breastworks was undefended with the exception of one brigade, commanded by Gen. Geo. S. Greene, consisting of the 60th, 8th, 102nd, 137th and 149th New York regiments. Upon them devolved the task which had hitherto rested upon an entire division.

Just as the onslaught began Col. Lane of the 102nd Regiment was desperately wounded. Stegman immediately took command and held his position against tremendous odds, three brigades against one.

The 137th Regiment lost 147 of its number. The flag of the 149th Regiment received eighty bullets through its folds and seven in its flagstaff, the color sergeant splintering it and replacing it on the works as fast as it fell. For conspicuous and pronounced bravery on the field of battle Stegman was promoted to be lieutenant-colonel of the 102nd Regiment and later on was promoted to be colonel of the First Regiment, United States Veteran Volunteers, which saw active service under Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock, commanding the Second United States Veteran Army Corps.

The 102nd was a three-year regiment, and Col. Stegman served to the end of its term and then joined the Hancock Veteran Volunteers and continued in the service until February, 1866, nearly a year after the close of the war. He escaped the terrible carnage at Gettysburg with only a slight wound, was hit on the head with a shell at Cedar Mountain, was shot across both knees at Ringold, and hit on the thigh at Pine Mountain, Ga. At the close of the war Col. Stegman was at Winchester in the division commanded by Gen. Carroll, of which Major McKinley, afterward President McKinley, was the advocate general.

Col. Stegman was a member of the Assembly in 1879 when the Legislature first took possession of the new but unfinished Capitol. He was Sheriff of Kings County in 1881, city editor of the "Citizen" in 1886, on the Standard Union, a political writer, in 1890, and on the Brooklyn "Daily Times" in 1906.

His work on the battlefield monument commission in which he succeeded Gen. Daniel Sickles, was untiring and of vital importance. At Gettysburg nearly a hundred monuments have been set up marking the positions of regiments which took part in that greatest battle of the Civil War. The position of every regiment of the Union has thus been marked. At Lookout Mountain, Chattanooga, Vicksburg and Andersonville Prison the same kind of work has been done.

He was appointed major in the First Regiment United States Veteran Volunteers on Dec. 23, 1864, and was brevetted lieutenant colonel for gallant and meritorious service during the war, to date from March 13, 1865. He was honorably discharged on Feb. 20, 1866.

He was appointed a member of the Chattanooga Battlefields Commission when constituted in 1893, and on consolidation, in 1895, became a member of the commission for the battlefields of Gettysburg and Chattanooga. He was chairman from the time it was instituted in 1913 of the New York Monuments Commission for the battlefields of Gettysburg, Chattanooga and Antietam.

During his tenure of office in that commission five bronze statues were dedicated on the battlefield of Gettysburg: one to Gen. Wadsworth in 1914; to Gen. Webb in 1915; to Gen. Doubleday and Gen. Robinson in 1917; and to Gen. Barlow in 1922. The first year of his administration the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the battle of Gettysburg was conducted.

Dr. Leander A. Roth, well known physician of Spring Grove, died on Wednesday morning in the York Hospital as the result of an operation for gallstones. He was a patient there since Sept. 29. Prior to

A SOPHOMORE IN GETTYSBURG COLLEGE IS THE VICTIM.

Five Young Men Returning from Football Game Last Saturday Night in the Crash.

William Hollinger, aged 20, oldest son of Postmaster and Mrs. D. Guy Hollinger, and a Sophomore in Gettysburg College, was fatally injured just before midnight on last Saturday, when the car in which they were riding crashed into a truck on the Lincoln Highway, five miles West of Lancaster near Mountville. The car was owned by Calvin W. Plowman, of Hanover, and driven by his son, Walter, who is suffering from the shock. There were three other boys in the car, J. Mullen, of Toronto, Canada, who was dangerously injured on head; Kirk Moyer, of Harrisburg, who is suffering from lacerations, bruises and shock, and Keith Burger, of Gettysburg, who escaped with slight injuries. The latter is a grandson of Mrs. Helen Keith, formerly of this place.

Passing motorists hurried the injured boys to St. Joseph's Hospital, Lancaster, where William Hollinger died at 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, about 40 minutes after the accident occurred. He was conscious but delirious. Death was due to internal hemorrhages. Young Hollinger's gold watch, badly battered, was crushed into his body, stopping at the exact time of the crash—11:52 P. M.

D. Guy Hollinger was called on the phone by the Lancaster hospital authorities, and informed of the accident and that his son had only a few minutes to live. Mr. Hollinger and Calvin Plowman drove at once to Lancaster. When they arrived there, however, Mr. Hollinger found that his son had died at 12:30 o'clock.

Walter Plowman claims that about five miles West of Lancaster, as they were driving West on the highway at a moderate rate of speed, they encountered another machine, East-bound, the lights from which blinded him. Just as this car passed him, Plowman claims he discovered a large truck parked along the right side of the road. He made an attempt to avoid striking it, but the right side of his car sideswiped the rear of the truck. William Hollinger was riding on the right side in the front seat and Mullen on the same side in the rear seat.

Witnesses allege that there was no light on the rear of the truck and that the driver was sleeping in the cab. Shortly after the accident the truck pulled away from the scene of the accident.

The boys were returning after spending the afternoon at Berthelheim, where they witnessed the Gettysburg-Lehigh gridiron clash. Hollinger, a Sophomore at the college, was a well-known college baseball player. Plowman is a star pitcher for the nine and Burger is a well-known track man.

The funeral was held on Wednesday. A memorial service was conducted in Brua Chapel on the Gettysburg College campus at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning by Dr. Henry W. A. Hanson, president of the college. The service was attended by the instructors and entire student body, showing the esteem in which the young man was held by the faculty and his fellow students.

The funeral was held from the Hollinger home in Hanover at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. R. H. Bergstresser, of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, assisted by Rev. Geo. W. Nicely, pastor of St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Rev. Dr. Hanson, President of the college, made a brief address at the service. A number of members of the college faculty and over two hundred of the student body attended the service. The Sigma Chi fraternity of the college of which the deceased was a member, also attended in a body.

The casket with the body was placed at one end of the living room of the Hollinger home, and was surrounded with floral designs from relatives and friends, former fellow students and his fraternity brothers. Following the impressive service, the cortege moved to Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Hanover, the student bodies of Gettysburg College and the Hanover High School being conveyed in automobiles. At the grave a full military burial service was held by the members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of Gettysburg College, of which the deceased was a member. The firing squad consisted of eight members and a bugler of which the deceased formerly had charge in college. They were under command of Major Nixon and Lieutenant Shear. He was carried to his last resting place by six members of the Sigma Chi fraternity, of which he was a member. T. Kenneth Barbour, John E. Fauber, Martin K. Hartig, Wm. H. B. Stevens, Raymond S. Singler and Guston Hasenfuss, Jr., William Hollinger was a graduate of the Hanover High School, class of '22, and Sophomore in Gettysburg College, where he played on the college baseball team, and was also one of the candidates of the football squad. He leaves his parents, two sisters, Misses Marie and Madge Hollinger and one brother, John Hollinger, at home. Also his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Emma B. Shultz, of Hanover.

TO SEE THE WHITE SQUAW UNVEILED ON SATURDAY, OCT. 13.

An Historical Event Will Help to Preserve a Story of Settlement of County.

The White Squaw will be appropriately dedicated in Buchanan Valley to-day, Saturday, at 2 o'clock. The address will be by the State Librarian and the unveiling will be by a Chambersburg lady. Father Will Whalen will preside and be the host of the big throng that will attend. He will do the inviting to dinner. Then there will be the glories of the valley to behold, the merry-go-round in high gear and a quantity of Indian hand work will be on sale to help pay for the statue. Father Whalen's book, "The Red Lily of Buchanan Valley" copyrighted and film rights reserved, will be on sale. The following review of the book has come from Father Whalen since the book has been issued.

Father Will Whalen has added a new book to his list. The title is "The Red Lily of Buchanan Valley," and takes up the tragic story of Mary Jemison, the little Irish girl, who was stolen from Adams county in 1758 by the Indians. The writer has done his work well. There's a note of truth about this strange, grim story of a beautiful white woman fighting, during a lifetime, for her soul among the redskins. The romance is too strange not to be true. History verifies most of what the author says, and he allows his imagination legitimate freedom. This novel will do far more to make the magnificent Mary Jemison known than the expensive history of her life which has been published in New York. We wish Will Whalen and his book success. The life of such a heroine can't help but be uplifting. There never was a more gripping page written than the chapter that tells of the white woman sending her Bavarian lover away, breaking her own heart, because while he's eager to marry her, he won't accept her Indian baby. Never a finer tribute to noble womanhood than at the closing where the poverty-stricken, ragged white squaw faces the rich society women, and in spite of their jewels and silks dwarfs them, proving herself a queen without a kingdom.

The book sells for the modest sum of 50c to put it in the way of everybody. The publishers: The White Squaw Press, Orrtanna, Adams Co., Pa.

Hoffman Orphanage Report.

At the recent annual meeting of the board of directors and ladies auxiliary of the George W. and Agnes Hoffman Orphanage, held at the orphanage, Rev. Dr. F. S. Lindaman, vice president of the board of directors, presided in the absence of the president.

Some interesting facts were revealed in the report of the superintendent Rev. A. H. Smith, which shows the splendid condition of the institution. The home used from their farm products an abundance of fruit, vegetables, butter, eggs, cheese, pork, beef, lard, flour, meal, buckwheat, corn and asparagus. The farm produced more of these things than could be used, which were sold. The total amount of the farm products was $3,088.47. $94.65 was realized from the asparagus alone.

The girls of the home have been doing all the cooking and bread baking. This has been done during the past year at a saving of $182.54 over the expense of two years ago when the family was much smaller. No help is employed for housework.

Sixty-four children have been cared for during the year. Nineteen were admitted and twelve dismissed. Action is now pending on the admission of four children, which will make the total fifty-seven.

The only farm product failing them this year was the potato crop. Last year, from the same acreage, but 77 bushels were raised. The dry weather when the potatoes were in blossom was the cause of the short crop.

ARENDTSTOWN.

The sweet potatoes in this locality are an unusual large crop but on account of the several weeks' drought in June the Irish potatoes are only a three quarter crop.

Our little village has 106 families and they own 87 autos and trucks. Harold J. Taylor is attending the School of Commerce in Harrisburg. On account of the apple pickers being scarce the school in this place was suspended last week that the teacher and scholars could assist in picking apples.

Allen B. Trostle of Chambersburg, was a recent visitor in the home of Dr. Wm. E. Wolff, his brother-in-law. L. G. Lockard and wife, of Altoona, are spending a few days in the home of Hiram C. Adams County Firemen Meet.

Over two hundred firemen attended the regular quarterly meeting of the Adams County Firemen's Association held at Arendtsville, Monday evening.

One of the principal features of the meeting was an address by Mr. Morgan, of the State Fire Department, under the Fire Marshal at Harrisburg.

During his remarks he strongly condemned the careless tossing away of cigarettes by the smoker and stated that according to the records, this was one of the biggest causes of fires in Pennsylvania.

Committees were appointed to confer with the citizens of New Oxford, Abbottstown, Bonneauville, Cash-town, and Aspers, and see if interest in the work and fire companies could not be organized in these towns before the next quarterly meeting will be held in New Oxford in January.

A finance committee was appointed to serve during the ensuing year.

The committee having charge of the Labor Day picnic which was held at Gettysburg on Labor Day, Sept. 3, reported a net profit from the picnic of $1,072.78.

Twenty members from McSherrystown and ten from the Littlestown fire company attended the meeting.

James B. Aumen, of Gettysburg, president of the association, presided over the meeting. He was recently elected one of the vice presidents of the State Association.

She is survived by a son, Miles D. Carey, of Macon, Ga., and a daughter, Mrs. R. C. Stephens, of Washington; four brothers and one sister. The body was sent to Pikesville, Md., for burial. Miss Cora Anners died at her home in Hazleton last week aged about 60 years. About twenty-five years ago she taught the private school in Gettysburg known as "Bethany" and introduced the first kindergarten work in town. Her work here covered five or six years. She had many friends here. Death was said to be due to a stroke. She was a native of Germantown, near Philadelphia, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. E. R. Bates, of Redlands, Cal.

Although the young man had been an invalid almost since birth, he attended the public schools and the Arendtsville Vocational School. Ill health, however, forced him to relinquish his studies. He is survived by his mother, one sister, Mrs. Armor Leatherman, of Harney, Md., and one brother, Clyde D. Wilson, of Mummaburg. Funeral services were held on Friday morning by the Rev. T. C. Hesson, of Arendtsville, with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

NO LONGER IMPORT SULPHUR

Entire Supply Needed by the United States is Obtained Within Our Own Borders.

Deep under marsh land and quicksands, in which it is impossible to sink shafts, there have been for ages deposits of almost pure sulphur in Louisiana and Texas. For many years these deposits defied efforts to obtain them.

All the sulphur used in this country formerly came from Sicily, where the sulphur mines on the slopes of Mt. Etna had been worked for more than 2,000 years. It is only since 1896 that sulphur has been obtained in any appreciable quantities from our own sources of supply in Louisiana, and today, thanks to chemical ingenuity and acumen, all the sulphur used in this country is of native origin.

By far the greatest part of the sulphur produced in the world is used in the manufacture of sulphuric acid. Sulphur is a constituent of black powder, which is used largely in mining soft coal. It finds employment in the rubber industry as a vulcanizing agent. It is used in the bleaching of silk and wool.

The straw for use in straw hats is bleached with sulphur dioxide fumes, made by burning sulphur. Large quantities are used in the form of solutions and powders to combat injurious growths on grapevines. Its use as a medicine in the form of ointments is well known.

WHAT HE WANTED TO KNOW

Delinquent Subscriber Evidently Had Mental Use for Great Organ of Public Opinion.

The editor of the Smalltown Bugle, like some others of his brethren, experiences considerable difficulty in persuading his subscribers to come forward, from time to time, with the annual subscription price. "If it is agreeable to you," he finally wrote to one hardened delinquent, "I will accept two bushels of corn in payment of the amount you owe me." "I regret to say," responded Farmer Brown, in due course, "that in feeding my stock I have used all the corn I raised." "Dear Mr. Brown," began the next letter of the series. "Inasmuch as you have used all your corn, I presume you have a large supply of corn cobs on hand, and I would be glad to accept a load thereof in payment of the amount due from you, as I can use them in place of kindling wood." "Mr. Editor," replied the farmer by the next mail, "your letter has been received and contents noted. What I want to know is this—what in Sam Hill do you think I'd want with your paper, if I had a supply of cobs to use in kindling fires?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

Source of Eskimo Vigor.

Rev. Dr. John Marquis, explorer and missionary among the Eskimos, attributes their hardihood, vigor and great endurance to the fact that they get sufficient vitamins through eating almost the whole carcass of their kill, including brain, nerve and glandular organs. Otherwise it is hard to conceive, he says, according to the New York Times, of their being able to make such good use of an almost purely meat diet, and one so freighted with fat. Dr. Marquis says that, as the white man's white bread, refined sugar and canned goods gradually penetrate into the Far North the white man's diseases are likely to accompany them.

Not very much is known about the origin of the 50,000 or more Eskimos who live in a region where the temperature reaches and remains for long periods at from 40 to 70 degrees below zero.

Almost the only edible plant growth in this frozen land is the reindeer moss, the food of the great herds of reindeer that inhabit northern Siberia. This moss and occasional patches of coarse, wild grass are not considered palatable and are seldom eaten by man.

Mythical Mines.

There are frequent reports of parties of men in California going out into the desert in search of lost mines, such as the Gunsite, the Lost Cabin, the Cement Lode, the Pegleg and many others, which perhaps existed only in the minds of the original finders. For example, the Gunsite was so named because a prospector found somewhere between two mountains what he thought was a rock and when he brought it to Los Angeles had it fashioned into a gun sight and learned that it was pure silver. Then he so named what he thought was a mine. He made several trips, but failed to locate it.

He did not know that any more such pieces of "rock" could be found there, but so presumed, and this led to the death of ten or twelve prospectors at different periods.—J. M. Scanland in the Los Angeles Times.

Detecting Remade Milk.

Because of the increased use of remade milk, manufactured from powdered or condensed milk and sweetened cream butter, it has become necessary for chemists to devise some test that will indicate its presence in milk products. If the curd from remade milk is dissolved in sodium hydroxide, it shows a characteristic yellow color, after standing, while natural products, or products containing only a small percentage of remade milk, do not show this color. As little as 10 per cent of remade milk can be detected by this test when carefully made.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.

Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs, When housework is torture, When night brings no rest nor sleep.

When urinary disorders set in, Women's lot is a weary one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys.

Have proved their worth in Gettysburg. This is one Gettysburg woman's testimony.

Mrs. Ella Little, 20 Breckenridge St., says: "My kidneys were in a bad condition. I had a stiffness through my limbs, but it was backache that gave me the most trouble. Sharp pains darted through my back very often when I would be working around during the day. I suffered severely when I did any stooping. Dizziness annoyed me and I thought more than once I would fall over. I was run down and my nerves gave out altogether. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I lost no time in getting some at the People's Drug Store. I was rid of the backache and dizzy spells and other signs of kidney complaint. My back and kidneys were put in proper condition, too."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Little had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

DEATHS.

that time he had been up and about attending to his practice as usual. His age was 75 years, 8 months and 15 days. Dr. Roth was a son of the late Jonas and Barbara Kauffman Roth of Butler township, Adams county, where he was born. On Feb. 27, 1865, at the age of 17 years, he enlisted in the 103rd Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, serving principally in North Carolina, until the end of the Civil War, under Capt. B. K. Lehman. He studied medicine at the Long Island Medical College and the Hygieo Therapeutic College, of New York State. He practiced medicine for 47 years, first in Nashville and then in Spring Grove where he resided at the time of his death. Surviving him are his widow, who was Miss Rose Plank, of Arendtsville; two sons, Ralph L. Roth, of Spring Grove, and Dr. J. Leroy Roth, of Conshohocken, Pa., and a brother, Reuben Roth, of Mummastown. He was an uncle of Prof. H. Milton Roth of this place. He was a member of Wolf's Reformed Church, near Spring Grove. The funeral will be held from his late home on Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Rev. O. P. Schellhamer, pastor of the Wolf's and Paradise Reformed church, officiating. The body will then be taken to Mummastown where interment will be made. Friends may view the remains on Saturday evening from 5 o'clock.

Mrs. Lucy Carey, of Glen Welton, Va., died at the Annie M. Warner Hospital on Tuesday. Death was due to an accident on Sunday on the Frederick pike near Emmitsburg, when the Ford car driven by W. H. Vogt, of Hampstead, with Mrs. Vogt and Mrs. Lucy E. Carey, collided with a large car coming the opposite direction at a high rate of speed, causing the Ford to turn turtle. Mrs. Carey was seriously injured and taken to the office of Dr. B. I. Jamison, Emmitsburg, and later removed to the hospital here where she died from a fractured skull. She is survived by a son, Miles D. Carey, at Macon, Ga., and a daughter, Mrs. R. C. Stephens, of Washington; four brothers and one sister. The body was sent to Pulaski, Va., for burial. Mr. and Mrs. Vogt were not seriously injured.

Robert S. Gitt died at his home in Los Angeles, Cal., on Monday aged about 63 years. He was a son of the late Nathaniel and Sarah Gitt, and was born on the Gitt homestead near McSherrytown. Later the family moved to Hanover where they lived for many years. When a young man Mr. Gitt went West and upon returning was employed by the Hanover and McSherrytown Street Railway Company, having been one of the first motormen when the line was opened. Later he returned to his trade as a watch repairer and conducted a jewelry store in Harrisburg successfully for some years. He retired later and moved to Littlestown. Three years ago he left for Los Angeles, Cal. He was a brother of the late Clinton J. Gitt, of Hanover, and Geo. Z. Gitt, late of Littlestown. He was an uncle of Dr. C. N. Gitt, of Gettysburg. He leaves a widow, who before marriage was Miss Emma Walter, of Marietta, Pa., and one brother, Edward Gitt, residing two miles north of Littlestown.

Mrs. Jacob A. Wildasin, of York county, died in the York Hospital, following an operation last Saturday for internal trouble. Previous to becoming a patient in the hospital she had been a sufferer for six weeks from typhoid fever. She was taken to the hospital last Friday afternoon. Her age was 45 years. She was a daughter of Mrs. Rosie and the late Adolphus Keefer, and was married about 18 years ago. Surviving her are the husband and a son, Harold Wildasin, at home; three brothers, C. C. Keefer, of Hanover; Dennis Keefer and Clarence Keefer, of York, and a sister, Mrs. Jacob Kemper, of Gettysburg.

J. Ambrose Kuhns died September 20, in Bloomington, Ill. Mr. Kuhns was born in Mt. Joy township and was in his 83rd year. He was the oldest son of the late William and Julia Cline Kuhns. He spent his early manhood in this vicinity teaching in different schools in Mt. Joy township then going to Bloomington, Ill., where he since resided. He is survived by his wife and one daughter, Mrs. Ada Gernon, of Bloomington, and one brother, James K. Kuhns of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and one sister, Mrs. B. J. Bauhaus, of Littlestown.

Maurice Amos Eisenhart, infant son of Charles E. and Katie Eisenhart, Hamilton township, died last Friday evening aged 2 months, and 2 days. Surviving are the parents and seven sisters and brothers as follows: Emma, William, Margaret, Coit, Pernice, Ralph and Melvin. Funeral was held Sunday afternoon at Mummert's Meeting House. Rev. C. L. Baker officiating.

Miss Cora Anners died at her home in Hazleton last week aged about 60 years. About twenty-five years ago she taught the private school in Gettysburg known as "Bethany" and introduced the first kindergarten work in town. Her work here covered five or six years. She had many friends here. Death was said to be due to a stroke. She was a native of Germantown, near Philadelphia, and is survived by one sister, Mrs. E. R. Bates, of Redlands, Cal.

Chester Leroy Wilson, youngest son of Mrs. Florence R. Wilson, died at his home in Mummastown Tuesday morning aged 17 years and 1 month. Although the young man had been an invalid almost since birth, he attended the public schools and the Arendtsville Vocational School. Ill health, however, forced him to relinquish his studies. He is survived by his mother, one sister, Mrs. Armory Leatherman, of Harney, Md., and one brother, Clyde D. Wilson, of Mummastown. Funeral services were held on Friday morning by the Rev. T. C. Hesson, of Arendtsville, with interment in Fairview Cemetery.

MARRIAGES.

The bride is a graduate of the Hanover High School, class of 1914 and of the West Chester Normal School. She taught until the close of the term last year when she resigned. Mr. and Mrs. Will left immediately following the ceremony for Harrisburg where they are residing in an apartment. The bridegroom is employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company in that city.

Clapper — Haar.—Toney Andrew Clapper, son of Charles Clapper and wife, near the Two Churches, and Miss Rebecca Alice Haar, daughter of Robert Haar, of York Springs R. D., were married at the Reformed parsonage, East Berlin, on last Saturday evening by the pastor, Rev. I. S. Ditzler.

NO LONGER IMPORT SULPHUR

Entire Supply Needed by the United States is Obtained Within Our Own Borders.

Deep under marsh land and quicksands, in which it is impossible to sink shafts, there have been for ages deposits of almost pure sulphur in Louisiana and Texas. For many years these deposits defied efforts to obtain them.

All the sulphur used in this country formerly came from Sicily, where the sulphur mines on the slopes of Mt. Etna had been worked for more than 2,000 years. It is only since 1896 that sulphur has been obtained in any appreciable quantities from our own sources of supply in Louisiana, and today, thanks to chemical ingenuity and acumen, all the sulphur used in this country is of native origin.

By far the greatest part of the sulphur produced in the world is used in the manufacture of sulphuric acid. Sulphur is a constituent of black powder, which is used largely in mining soft coal. It finds employment in the rubber industry as a vulcanizing agent. It is used in the bleaching of silk and wool.

The straw for use in straw hats is bleached with sulphur dioxide fumes, made by burning sulphur. Large quantities are used in the form of solutions and powders to combat injurious growths on grapevines. Its use as a medicine in the form of ointments is well known.

WHAT HE WANTED TO KNOW

Delinquent Subscriber: Evidently Had Menial Use for Great Organ of Public Opinion.

The editor of the Smalltown Bugle, like some others of his brethren, experiences considerable difficulty in persuading his subscribers to come forward, from time to time, with the annual subscription price. "If it is agreeable to you," he finally wrote to one hardened delinquent, "I will accept two bushels of corn in payment of the amount you owe me." "I regret to say," responded Farmer Brown, in due course, "that in feeding my stock I have used all the corn I raised." "Dear Mr. Brown," began the next letter of the series, "inasmuch as you have used all your corn, I presume you have a large supply of corn cobs on hand, and I would be glad to accept a load thereof in payment of the amount due from you, as I can use them in place of kindling wood." "Mr. Editor," replied the farmer by the next mail, "your letter has been received and contents noted. What I want to know is this—what in Sam Hill do you think I'd want with your paper, if I had a supply of cobs to use in kindling fires?"—San Francisco Argonaut.

Source of Eskimo Vigor.

Rev. Dr. John Marquis, explorer and missionary among the Eskimos, attributes their hardihood, vigor and great endurance to the fact that they get sufficient vitamins through eating almost the whole carcass of their kill, including brain, nerve and glandular organs. Otherwise it is hard to conceive, he says, according to the New York Times, of their being able to make such good use of an almost purely meat diet, and one so freighted with fat. Dr. Marquis says that, as the white man's white bread, refined sugar and canned goods gradually penetrate into the Far North the white man's diseases are likely to accompany them.

Not very much is known about the origin of the 50,000 or more Eskimos who live in a region where the temperature reaches and remains for long periods at from 40 to 70 degrees below zero.

Almost the only edible plant growth in this frozen land is the reindeer moss, the food of the great herds of reindeer that inhabit northern Siberia. This moss and occasional patches of coarse, wild grass are not considered palatable and are seldom eaten by man.

Mythical Mines.

There are frequent reports of parties of men in California going out into the desert in search of lost mines, such as the Gunsite, the Lost Cabin, the Cement Lode, the Pegleg and many others, which perhaps existed only in the minds of the original finders. For example, the Gunsite was so named because a prospector found some where between two mountains what he thought was a rock and when he brought it to Los Angeles had it fashioned into a gun sight and learned that it was pure silver. Then he so named what he thought was a mine. He made several trips, but failed to locate it.

He did not know that any more such pieces of "rock" could be found there, but so presumed, and this led to the death of ten or twelve prospectors at different periods.—J. M. Scanland in the Los Angeles Times.

Detecting Remade Milk.

Because of the increased use of remade milk, manufactured from powdered or condensed milk and sweet-cream butter, it has become necessary for chemists to devise some test that will indicate its presence in milk products. If the curd from remade milk is dissolved in sodium hydroxide, it shows a characteristic yellow color, after standing, while natural products, or products containing only a small percentage of remade milk, do not show this color. As little as 10 per cent of remade milk can be detected by this test when carefully made.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WEAK, WEARY WOMEN.
Learn the Cause of Daily Woes and End Them.

When the back aches and throbs, When housework is torture, When night brings no rest nor sleep, When urinary disorders set in, Women's lot is a weary one. Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys. Have proved their worth in Gettysburg.

This is one Gettysburg woman's testimony. Mrs. Ella Little, 20 Breckenridge St., says: "My kidneys were in a bad condition. I had a stiffness through my limbs, but it was backache that gave me the most trouble. Sharp pains darted through my back very often when I would be working around during the day. I suffered severely when I did any stooping. Dizziness annoyed me and I thought more than once I would fall over. I was run down and my nerves gave out altogether. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me and I lost no time in getting some at the People's Drug Store. I was rid of the backache and dizzy spells and other signs of kidney complaint. My back and kidneys were put in proper condition, too."
